We don't just manufacture Brake Wear Sensors, We manufacture Safety.

TekMaster® by DMA offers one of the most complete lines of BRAKE WEAR SENSORS for the automotive aftermarket parts industry. Starting with a benchmark of OE fit, function and engineering, our design and material specifications surpass many of the top brand names in the industry. As every sensor is quality tested for connectivity and functionality before release to the market, you can install with confidence. DMA offers a leading 12 month unlimited mileage warranty on all of its sensors.

Many "Dealership Only" sensors are now available to you and can be sourced directly at greatly reduced prices. With significant inventories stocked here in the USA, you will not find yourself waiting for order shipments from Europe or Asia. Our low minimum purchase requirements allow you to right size your sensor inventories. As all of our sensors come single packaged, you're not forced into over buying case packs.

DMA's customer service team provides our customers with accurate cataloging, vehicle application references, detailed product marketing support and fast and friendly order support. Product information is also available through industry-leading electronic cataloging programs such as Epicor and WHI Solutions as well as MyCarParts <https://tekmaster.mycarparts.com/>.

How to measure wire length

Many competitors have elected to combine sensor part numbers where only the wire length is different. This results in a less than optimal fit for the vehicle. Wire length measurements are important to the overall fit and function of your newly installed brake wear sensor. If the sensor cable is too short, it can be stretched during installation or during hard vehicle turns and potentially cause a break or tear in the sensor wire. If the sensor cable is too long, it can become entangled with other suspension components, potentially causing damage to the sensor. Both cases lead to loss of connectivity and premature system failure. This will require replacement of the sensor.

TekMaster® brake wear sensors are developed to meet the OE wire length specifications. To help you identify wire length differences, we have provided all wire length information, available at the time of printing of this catalog, in the Cross Reference Guide of this catalog. Below are useful tips on how to properly measure the cable wire length of brake pad wear sensors.

All straight Brake Wear Sensors are measured tip to tip

Brake Wear Sensors with a turn are measured from the tip of the long wire to the turn
